Задание №2.

Children's imagination and creativity play critical roles in their maturation. These skills are essential for the development of their intelligence, logic, communication, and strategic abilities, in addition to being effective sources of amusement. An example of a creative fictional character is Alice, from Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland. Her imagination helped her to create an impressive world, in which she faced some challenges. However, she managed to solve them despite their difficulties. If she hadn't used her creativity, imagination, and many other related skills, she would never have been able to handle them.

Задание №3.

The Frog Incident

I'm a regular dog named Tom and I live in a somewhat boring house with Sam, an old man with a kind heart that sometimes stands out with very odd behavior, and his wife, Charlotte, always furious both at me and her own husband. Bizarre unexpected situations always happen to our small company, and today is not an exception.

I was just wandering around our house when I suddenly noticed a big-looking box. I got really curious about what's in there, so I decided to smell it first. Unfortunately, I didn't get anything out of it, and my interest was so high that I couldn't hold back and opened the box - and this was probably the biggest mistake I've ever made. There were frogs in the box, which immediately jumped on me and scattered all over the house. I quickly ran away in intense fear!

Right now Charlotte is ~~looking~~ ^{looks} at the small green creatures with horror and exclaims: "What is this? Where did they even come from?!". It also looks like Sam's trying to catch the frogs... using a fishing rod. Knowing his average behavior, he probably thinks that's a completely normal thing to do, and I'm not that surprised. I wonder, what happens next? Personally, I have a hunch that the ever-evil Charlotte would think that her husband would be the culprit for all of this, and that she would pull out a broom and hit him over his head with all her might. Don't be surprised, I've seen it happen many times before. If this repeats, our poor Sam will probably start feeling dizzy for a very long time... To conclude this, I sure hope nothing bad happens to us, our house, and even the frogs that caused this mess.
