Book 2.

1. According to the first text, when people reach adolescence, they enjoy the ~~most advantageous~~ <sup>best</sup> state of their health: physical and mental sensations that teenagers can feel are the strongest and the most vivid.
2. Explanation to this can be found in the second text. Only well-off families could provide their children with abundant food, comfortable housing and high-quality education. The rest could not afford such luxury, thereby most teenagers had to enter workforce to help their parents keep body and soul together.
3. I would not agree with the statement that both texts express similar aspects of teenage life. Text 1 describes the properties of human body and mind during this stage, whereas the second text explains how daunting was the life of adolescents before the advent of better living conditions and opportunities for education in the beginning of the 20th century.

4. It is mentioned in the 1st text that despite the fact that teenagers possess an incredible resilience to negative events, which happen in their lives, some of them find adolescence extremely stressful and demanding rather than pleasant and beneficial.

I usually agree with this as, speaking from my experience, the contrast between blissful childhood with practically no responsibilities and a adolescence which involves making first serious life-<sup>turning</sup> decisions, seems extremely sharp. Moreover, due to high levels of emotional sensitivity, each mistake resembles a total disaster.

The 2nd text states that the idea of adolescence as we think of it today didn't not exist until the 20th century. I share this view, as most <sup>young</sup> people aged 13-17 from the past could not afford to get <sup>proper</sup> basic education and ponder over what they wanted to achieve in ~~their~~ life.

5. To my mind, it is possible for young people to gain independence not through education, though this institution definitely has a tremendous impact on a teenager's sense of maturity. I hold the view that learning the rules of modern society is what something that teaches adolescents to make their own choices.

Planning London Trip

What historical landmarks to visit?

I suppose, it is vital to visit the Parliament, which is sited in the Westminster Palace. Nearby, there are a lot of marvellous constructions, including the Tower Bridge + ~~the British Museum~~ and the Westminster Abbey, where ~~the English~~ <sup>all the monarchs</sup> ~~were~~ <sup>were</sup> crowned ever since ~~the 1066~~. all the British monarchs were crowned ever since 1066.

Moreover, I recommend visiting ~~the~~ the Buckingham Palace, an official residence of former Queen Elizabeth II.

What museums and galleries to visit and what to see there?

My advice is to visit the British Museum, which is one of the oldest museums in the world. There can be observed many wonderful exhibitions. One that particularly amused <sup>during my visit</sup> me is devoted to the Viking conquest of British Isles.

What food to try?

The dish that I enjoyed most is called dotted cream. I can assure you that you'll ask <sup>a waiter</sup> for another treat as soon as you finish the first one.

What transport to use to reach the places mentioned above conveniently?

The answer may seem obvious - the legendary Tube! Its stations are really close to the landmarks that I proposed to visit, and it will cost much cheaper than ordering a taxi or choosing a double-decker bus.

To whom it may concern,

The purpose of this letter is to offer a comment on the article which accounts for diminishing the number of airplane flights in order to reduce the detrimental effects of carbon ~~dioxide~~ <sup>CO<sub>2</sub></sup> emission on our planet's <sup>climate</sup> ~~climate~~. To make the point transparent, the idea expressed in the extract is sensible, yet there are other measures that can be ~~taken~~ implemented and bring even more fruitful results.

It is common knowledge that extensive emission of CO<sub>2</sub> increases the impact of greenhouse effect on the climate, causing glaciers to melt, temperatures to change and features of the types of climate to intensify throughout the globe. In the article, it is cohesively stated that thousands of tonnes of this harmful ~~gas~~ compound will not deteriorate the state of the ozone layer on condition that less plane flights are conducted. However, only few can afford to travel regularly by ~~plane~~ <sup>air</sup>, thus, it will be more beneficial to alter practices that involve more groups of people. One of such measures is consuming <sup>all kinds of</sup> less food of animal origin, especially meat and dairy products. By doing this, two major factors that contribute to the extravagant CO<sub>2</sub> release - the cattle and the areas for its grazing - can be reduced. Nowadays, there is a plethora of <sup>plant-based</sup> substitutes which can guarantee a balanced diet.

Furthermore, another <sup>measure</sup> ~~advancement~~ that can reduce CO<sub>2</sub> emission on the global scale is not opting for cars ~~not~~ using petrol when ~~not~~ transferring <sup>Many people drive automobiles</sup> and ~~not~~ <sup>and</sup> ~~not~~ <sup>the</sup> ~~cars~~ everyday ~~which~~ the amount of CO<sub>2</sub> they produce is comparable to that <sup>which</sup> ~~of~~ is mentioned in the article.

Both suggestions can be introduced to the public relatively easily. As for the ~~plant~~ alternatives of animal produce, proper marketing can make <sup>eat</sup> ~~eat~~ <sup>consuming</sup> them a fashionable way of living for the Earth. When it comes to <sup>the</sup> policy against traditional cars, parking fees can be increased in cities and town and public transport should be advanced.

To conclude, all the three actions <sup>can</sup> ~~are~~ help compensate for harmful effects of <sup>humanity's</sup> ~~humanity's~~ detrimental abuse of nature. It is crucial to state that these measures ~~not~~ have to be conducted simultaneously to achieve the most beneficial results.

Yours faithfully,
 An <sup>ardent</sup> ~~keen~~ reader of your article
