- 1. The personality of an average Western teenager evolved greatly after World War Two. According to Text 1, the significance of teenagers and their opinions grew, people began to consider adolescents more valuable.
- 2. The concept of a teenager is exploited by the marketing people because adolescents can come in handy in the world of business. According to Text 1, young people can manage to promote new things really efficiently.
- 3. Text 1 and Text 2 do not focus on similar aspects of adolescence, because Text 1 is about how teenagers are used by businessmen, and Text 2 tells us that adolescents are able to build their careers by themselves.
- 4. "Of course some adolescents create astonishing opportunities for themselves." Personally, I agree with this statement. I think it is quite common for teenagers to be willing to achieve their goals without relying on anyone else. Unfortunately, nowadays not all young people have supporting parents, that is why they have to pluck up their courage and bravely face up to every difficulty.
- 5. I do find the examples in Text 2 inspirational. Some teenagers tend to be shy and self-conscious, and it can be extremely difficult for them to embark on something new. The examples in Text 2 can show them that it is worth trying to experiment, because it can lead to great success. As for me, it inspired me not to be put off by my young age and ensured that everything is possible if I really want it.

Planning London Trip

Museums and Galleries to Visit

London is rich in different museums and galleries, which will be exciting to visit. For example, it will be a pleasure for you to visit the National Gallery, where you will enjoy the artworks of famous artists. If you are mostly keen on modern art, I would advise you to visit the Tate Modern.

Historical Landmarks

The capital of Great Britain is also full of various places connected with the history of the country, which is, by the way, very interesting. First of all, it is worth visiting the Tower of London, <sup>where</sup> according to a popular legend, two princes died under the unknown circumstances. You should definitely see the Buckingham Palace, the residence of British monarchs, though it is not always possible to visit it. The Westminster Abbey, which was designed by a celebrated architect Christopher Wren and the construction of which was initiated by the most pious English king, is also a great place to visit. The London Eye, also known as the Ferris Wheel, will provide you with an opportunity to enjoy the view of the city. If you want to learn about the government system of the UK, you ought to visit the Parliament. In all these places you will gain knowledge about famous Britons, including Henry VIII, <sup>former</sup> Supreme Head of the Church of England and the ruler under the reign of whom the Reformation started.

YusmobarConcert Halls

If you are a keen theatre-goer, you will certainly love the Royal Opera House and other concert halls which are situated in the West End.

Transport

The Tube is a famous railway system which you will be able to use to conveniently reach the above mentioned places.

Where to Eat Out and What to Try

Baker Street is known for its restaurants where you can try traditional British ~~for~~ dishes, such as Shepherd's Pie, Hot Cross Buns and so on. So as to get ~~an~~ acquainted with the English tea drinking culture, you should ~~try~~ the ~~ceremon~~ experience the ceremony called the Afternoon Tea.

50 Task 5.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing in response to your article on stopping to use all plastic. The reason of my writing is to introduce my own opinion on the issue and to suggest some ways of dealing with it. The problem is that the humanity is unable to live completely without plastic, though this ~~sub-~~ ~~stance~~ is extremely harmful. ~~for our environment.~~ In my opinion, it is necessary to think of the ways of getting rid of this problem, or else it will have negative consequences.

The atmosphere of the Earth is getting more and more polluted from year to year. Plastic is the most malicious thing for the nature, and, at the same time, it is the most used material. We drink water from plastic bottles, we use ~~plac~~ plastic pens and so on. If we just make an attempt to stop using plastic, we will lose everything we have ever possessed. We will be simply unable to perform our everyday tasks. This is what still prevents us from avoiding plastic.

The pollution of the environment is only a basis for further catastrophe, the Global Warming. Scientists claim that it is already happening now, and because of it some cities may be lost, including Saint Petersburg and

Участовус

Venice. This is what should make everyone understand that it is a global problem. The difficulty is that not many people are aware of the problem, and some even ~~the~~ consider it not very serious.

I am now keen to suggest several ways of solving the issue. Firstly, it is advisable for the environmentalists to invent more materials that can be recycled, and the government should increase the production of such substances. Secondly, the authorities should raise the awareness of the pollution problem, ~~the negative its negative~~ its negative impact on people's lives should be highlighted.

In conclusion, I would like to say that I hope you will find my suggestions valuable. Thank you in advance for your reply.

Yours faithfully,
Polina Gulina
