2. a human heart
3. pleasure is happiness
4. has a fever
5. the cathedral tower
6. palace and heard

B.

1. The Swallow didn't want to fly to the boys because they were rude and threw stones at him. 2
2. The Happy Prince was sad because he was finally able to see the ugliness and misery of his city. 2

Блок 2. Понимание содержания текста.

1. In his first period of writing, Shakespeare imitated other dramatists as they mostly wrote plays in the genre of "the Senecan tragedy", one that was extremely mainstream back then. 2

2. In his first period of writing, Shakespeare wrote whatever kinds of plays were popular in his times; he wrote ones in the style of "the Senecan tragedy" when they were mainstream; once they went out of fashion and started getting replaced with history plays, Shakespeare switched his focus to them. 2

3. Shakespeare dropped the idea of writing comedies for the middle class because he once tried his hand in this field (in The Merry Wives of Windsor) and then came to a conclusion that it's simply not his type. 1

4. Shakespeare's third period is characterized by him writing Hamlet, exploring the issue of evil for eight years and the general melancholic atmosphere of his works because of his pessimistic nature. 2

5. Shakespeare's last period was a time when he did truly something never seen before, pioneering the genre of tragicomedy, a combination of drama and romance. Shakespeare's tragicomic works themselves were characterized as tranquil and serious! 2

Блок 3. Лексико-грамматический анализ.

1. is moving - moves

Блок 4. Социокультурный компонент.

~~Oscar Wilde~~ Mark Twain

1. The Adventures of Tom Sawyer was written by ~~Mark Twain~~ in the XIX Century, in ~~England~~. Ireland. England. 2

2. The abbreviation i.e. means "in essence". A possible sentence showing its usage could be:

"If anyone gets caught using electronic devices (i.e. phones, tablets, earphones, smart bracelets/watches) during the Olympiad, they'll be disqualified and their work won't be checked." 1

3. The idiom out of the blue means out of nowhere, very suddenly, unexpectedly. A possible dialogue including it could be:

A: Hey, have you seen Kenny demonstratively walking out of that one university meeting when a group of some famous people walked in? I've heard that he was protesting some cause.

B: I know, right? He just left and didn't utter a single word. I was so shocked afterwards, it was so unexpected...

A: Eh, that didn't seem out of the blue for me. Kenny has always been vocal about things that bother him and his stances on various issues and I'm saying that as a person who's been friends with him for over eight years. I knew he would do something like this.

B: Well, I don't know Kenneth as much as you do. Let's just hope he doesn't get in much trouble.

4. A scone is a type of pastry, so it's not hard to guess that scones are made of sugar, flour and butter. They're typically served with hot drinks, mainly tea.

5. Since September 8th, 2022, with Queen Elizabeth II passing away, the current United Kingdom monarch is King Charles III.

БЛОК 5. Письмо к маме.

Hey Mom,

I'm writing to you from the "Pine Forest" summer camp, obviously. I've reached a milestone of ten days of being there, and let me tell you - it's awful and I really do mean it. I'm writing this because I'm really bored and need to pass time, so to speak. How are you all doing? I sure hope you're having more fun at home than I do am!

Mom, camps are supposed to be fun, right? Well, it seems that this one decided to stand out. Everyday we wake up, do a very "exciting" workout, eat multiple times, engage in a bunch of completely unnecessary sport activities like we're in the army, have little to no free time and go to sleep hoping that this all will be over soon. As the camp name hints, it's located in a vast pine forest. The trees make it completely impossible for any network to pass through, that's why I'm writing a letter to you in the first place. The owners are seemingly proud of that, because, of course, phones are very bad and we need to digitalize the younger generation or whatever. The camp consists of six buildings for living in there, a cafeteria, an entertainment hall and the medical building. People here are nice, so far I've made friends with almost everyone but some mean boy. The nature's also pretty good, there are various plants and I once saw a squirrel. As for the weather, during daytime it's fine but at night it's unbearably cold and it's made even worse by the fact that the windows everywhere are broken for some reason.

Yesterday was another average boring day. We had to prepare a play on the topic of proper behavior on the roads because people love torturing us with it since kindergarten. It had to be based off some childish song. We spent hours rehearsing it and even missed lunch because of it. In the end our group performed it, it went well, and each participant got... a single Chiupis. At least it was tasty. I ~~sure~~ suppose the rest of today and tomorrow isn't going to be any better too, but for the letter we were actually promised a scary quest by a prominent team from our town, so that's pretty interesting. I'll tell you how it went.

Being here made me realize that I really miss our house and everything in it, like my room, you all and my cat Paul. I also wonder how's Grandma and Grandpa doing! Please tell them I said hi.

By the way, you can visit me in three days for merely 15 minutes, but at least that's something. Could you please bring me my mini fan for ~~it~~ when it's hot (should be on my desk), my red wireless Bluetooth headphones (also on my desk) and a board game, either Taboo, Life or Activity (closet near my bed)? I'll really appreciate if you do so.

I have many things to tell you, but I don't have time right now, so just wait for these three days. We have to head out for second lunch.

Lots of love!
