If it wasn't for the Roman Empire, Britain wouldn't probably be the one that we know today. At first, people who lived there didn't think of themselves as British, but in 55 BC Romans brought an army from France and called them Britons. Later, these people could speak, write and read Latin and some of them became Christians. The Romans were defeated by Britons who had help from Boudica, which soon felt...

INTRODUCTION

Museums play a huge role in modern world culture. These places widen our knowledges and save history from being forgotten.

Thinking of world culture, it is obvious that everyone should know it, as it is not enough to just ~~be aware~~ know your local culture & history. The more you know, the smarter you are. Besides, it is precious to obtain world culture knowledges.

ANALYSE OF THE MUSEUM EVENT

This type of museum events, which is provided by London's British Museum is likely to be enjoyed by my peers. People of my age would enjoy sleepovers. Little did anyone know that museum sleepovers exist and it is available for kids and teenagers.

The given schedule is quite convenient for most people. If Awesome Greece had started its registration ~~hour~~ later, it would have ~~been~~ made every adult be free after work.

SUGGESTIONS

I would also like to create an annual museum event that would be held every year before New Year. ~~As a suggestion~~ New York's History Museum can arrange events for little kids to learn the history of America, using cartoons.

Theme: History For Little kids with a sleepover
 Title: Amazing America For Small Adults
 Museum: New York's History Museum
 Audithory: Kids between 5-10 years
 Activities: Showing cartoons, ~~dancing~~, singing historical songs, cooking and making salads and drinks, dancing traditional dance of ancient Americans.

Organization: 15:00 - Registration - meet group leader
 15:30 - 20:00 - activities
 20:00 - 22:00 - free time for everyone
 22:00 - lights are off
 07:00 - breakfast
 08:00 - home time
