The Romans had a great influence on the British due to Britain being under control of the Roman Empire for about 400 years. Nowadays one can find houses that the Romans built across Britain. The influence did also affect their ~~people~~ behavior: the British started dressing the Roman way, bathing and attending theatres, ~~pe~~ being able to speak and write Latin ~~turning~~ ~~to~~ ~~Christianity~~s.

~~In my opinion,~~ It is vital to prevent the death of the Great Barrier Reef, that is erasing nearer and nearer every day due to the Global Warming, because it is a place of grate nature diversity.

Sydney Opera House - Inaugurated in 1973, the site...
 In my opinion, people should protect the Sydney Opera House from destruction, in order to save ~~an~~ a marvelous example of complex yet highly functional modern ~~at~~ architecture.

Yellowstone National Park - The vast natural site

Today one can face some difficulties if decides to find somebody who hasn't been to a museum before. In life of many modern people ~~going to attending~~ an exhibition is a standant holiday activity. I believe that such habit is not only a very interesting cultural phenomenon, but also a great opportunity for people to ~~better~~ come to worldwide understanding, because in learning a foreign culture ~~one~~ lies on a key to understanding the soul of the entire nation. Moreover, it ~~is very opens~~ <sup>introduces</sup> opens a new way of living and observing the world, which can be life-changing experience.

After looking through London's British Museum's programme I can most certainly say that it is a ~~very~~ rather interesting programme to announce. I, personally, am 16 years old, so I do not fit into the age group of 8-14-year-olds, for whom given activities are available, but I reason that for teenagers older than 14 London's British Museum sleepovers would also be quite fascinating. The idea of learning one's culture through intertainment, such as cooking national dishes or dancing, is perfectly suitable for people of every age, therefore not the kids nor their parents would get bored. The activity plan is ~~big~~ <sup>very</sup> very well-thought so kids will not spoil their sleeping schedule and the museum will be clean after the night due to the "pack up".

I really liked the sound of travelling to Ancient Greece, so I ~~thing~~ think it would be amazing to plan a sleepover in the Pushkin's Museum of Arts, due to its ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> breath-taking full-sized collections of Ancient Greece exponents. Arranging theatrical poems reading activities ~~is~~ for people of age 16 and older ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> right next to the Ancient Gods statues ~~would~~ will put a classical atmosphere so it ~~is~~ afterwards ~~to be~~ also can script and <sup>then</sup> play some scenes from ancient Greece myths near the ~~Parthenon~~ same statues. This activity will have a name "The poetic and theatrical ancient Greece" and will be dedicated to very interesting for those who love art and performance. ~~On the second~~ ~~floor~~ ~~the start of~~ The plays will start around 21.00, and ~~by the time~~ so it would be dark and the actors will perform in a single get bright beam of the light. By the time of sunrise all plays and poems would be read and performed, ~~so~~ <sup>therefore</sup> around 6.00 the participants could ~~be~~ heading home.
