(On the one hand, fast food is really tasty and delicious.
On the other hand, it's unhealthy. My final point is that fast food is bad for me, however I still love it.)

I find fast food really delicious and even though it's really unhealthy, I still love it, due to its low price and incredible tastiness.

~~My perfect~~

A perfect room for me

My home and my room are the places where I have everything I love or need. Of course, I'd like my room to be perfect, however I don't find it possible.

My dream room shouldn't be very huge. I would prefer a small one. The small rooms have always been better for me, because there aren't much empty or not used place. I'd also like my room to be round circular or symmetrical, because this kind of rooms always seem to be exiting.

I want to leave in a dark room. Dark colours like brown have always seemed really cool for me. It also makes me feel warm and relaxed.

I would really enjoy having a wooden room with a huge red carpet, because it makes me feel nostalgic.

My perfect room must have a wardrobe, a bed and lots of shelves with many plants, ~~or souvenirs~~. ~~And I've always wanted a camin~~ when I was younger, I used to want a camin. Although, now I understand that it's very dangerous, so I will choose living without it. I don't need a TV, due to the amount of noise it makes.

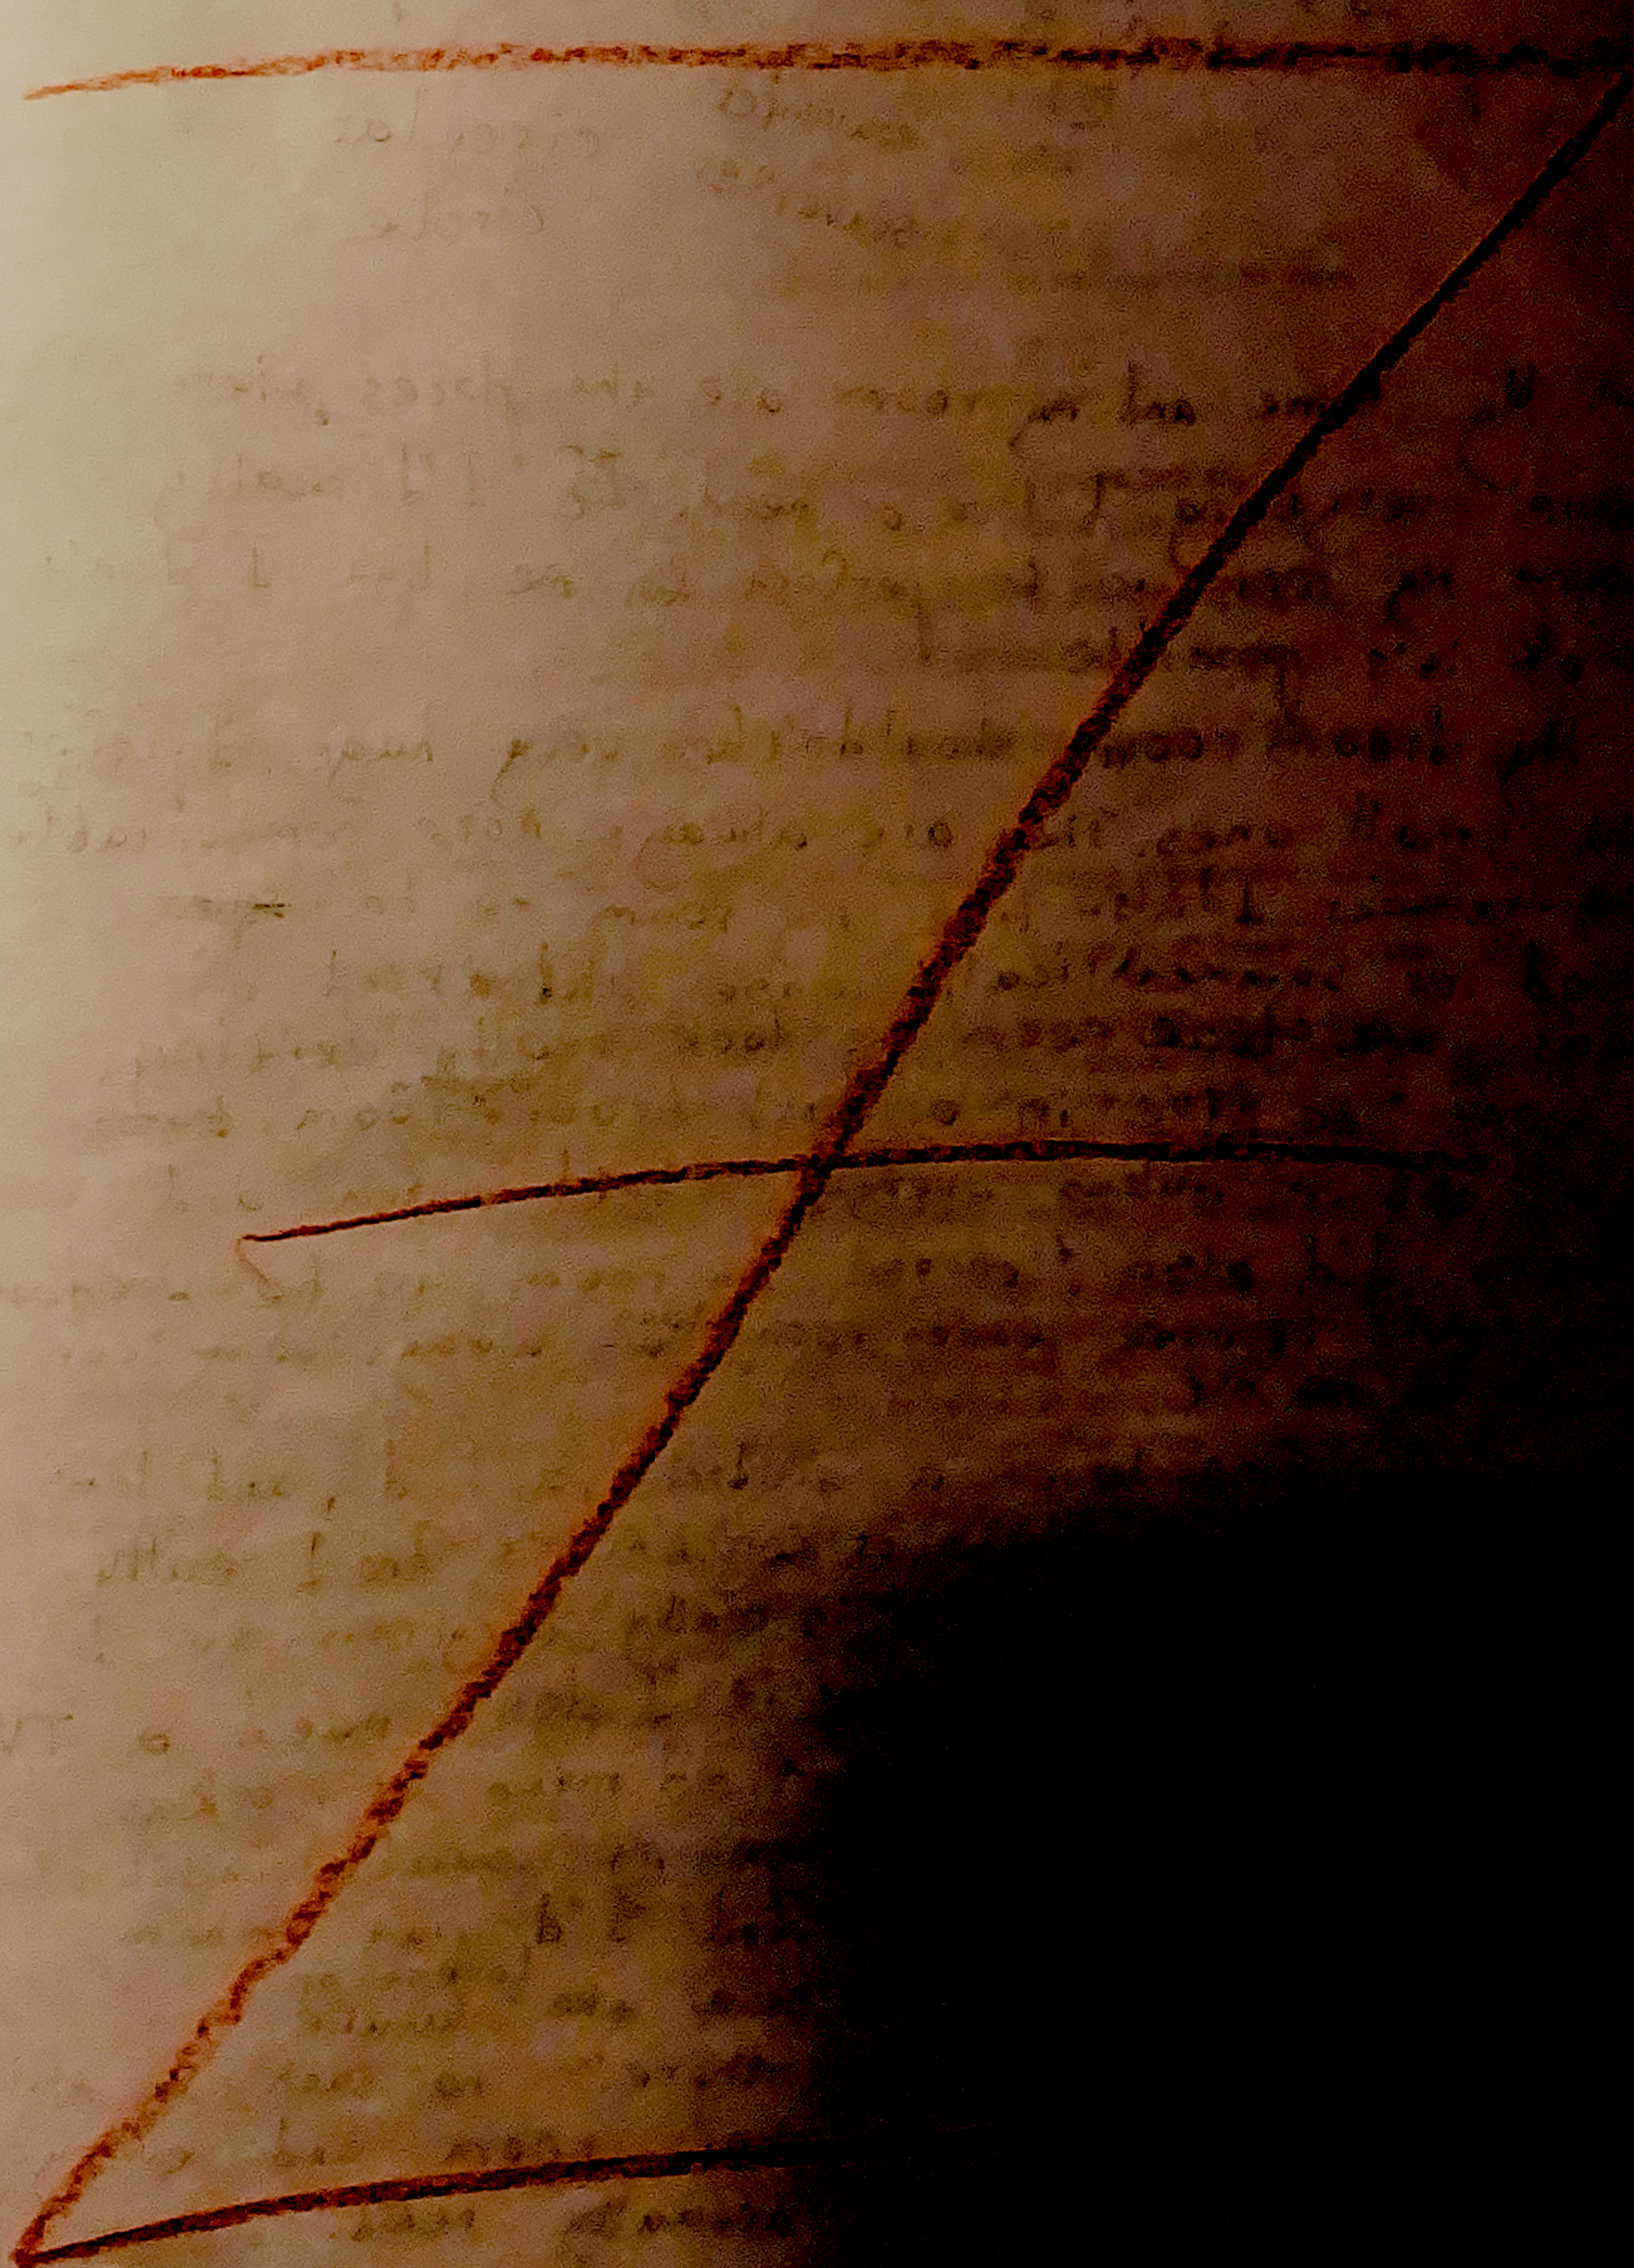

I would like to change my usual windows and have the panoram ones. And I'd put them in a such place, so I could see the forest or nature from them.

My final point is that there's no such a thing that everyone needs in their room and everyone should have everything, or just something they actually need
