Блок 4. Cultural Competence

This speech couldn't be made by Elizabeth I. Firstly, there were no airplanes or photographs in her time. The first photograph was made in the 19th century, while the mass production of airplanes began a century later. Secondly, the speaker mentions Nelson's day. This day was made after Horace Nelson who lived in the 18th century. Thirdly, the speaker mentions an ongoing world war but there wasn't a world war during Elizabeth I's reign.

I guess that this speech was made by Winston Churchill. 10

Блок 5. Writing

Dear students of our Lyceum,

We did it! After six years of hard work inside our Lyceum's walls, we have gathered here to say our final goodbyes. It has been a long journey not only for us, but also for our teachers, families and friends. I've been given the honour to deliver this year's graduation speech. I would lie if I say that this speech didn't take an unreasonable amount of time to write, but I'm really proud of what I've come up with. I've decided that the theme of my speech is "Motivation and Life Goals". I will tell you about my life experiences, the lessons I've learnt and the legacy I want to leave.

Over the six years I spent here, I had one goal - to be the best student I can. To reach my goal, I had to overcome different challenges ranging from procrastination to lack of time to procrastination again. I think my example made you remember how you used to start doing your homework late at night and then complain that you didn't have enough time to finish it. This happened to me many times. However, I've learnt to manage my time properly and not to

B. Both of these texts are about evolution. The lecture is about ~~the~~ what 18th-century scientists thought about the evolution, while the text is about its main misconception. The conclusion that 18th-century ~~scient~~ scientists thought that God created everything on our planet can be used to show how theories about evolution changed through ~~a~~ time. The takeaway that no species has "progressed" further ~~to~~ than any other can be used to compare the evolution of different species.

Зуок 2. Reading

A. The following extracts show that grammar is important because it can show your personality through your speech.

B. I think that the characters from the two extracts come from a rural background because people who live in villages are more likely to receive a poor education. These characters' substandard grammar can be caused by their lack of education or the informal situation they're in. Using this kind of language, the authors wanted to create images of a character who is having a simple conversation with a friend and a character who doesn't know spelling and grammar rules.

C. 2) - That doesn't mean he has to meddle with me.

- Let him say what he likes. I don't want to argue with him.

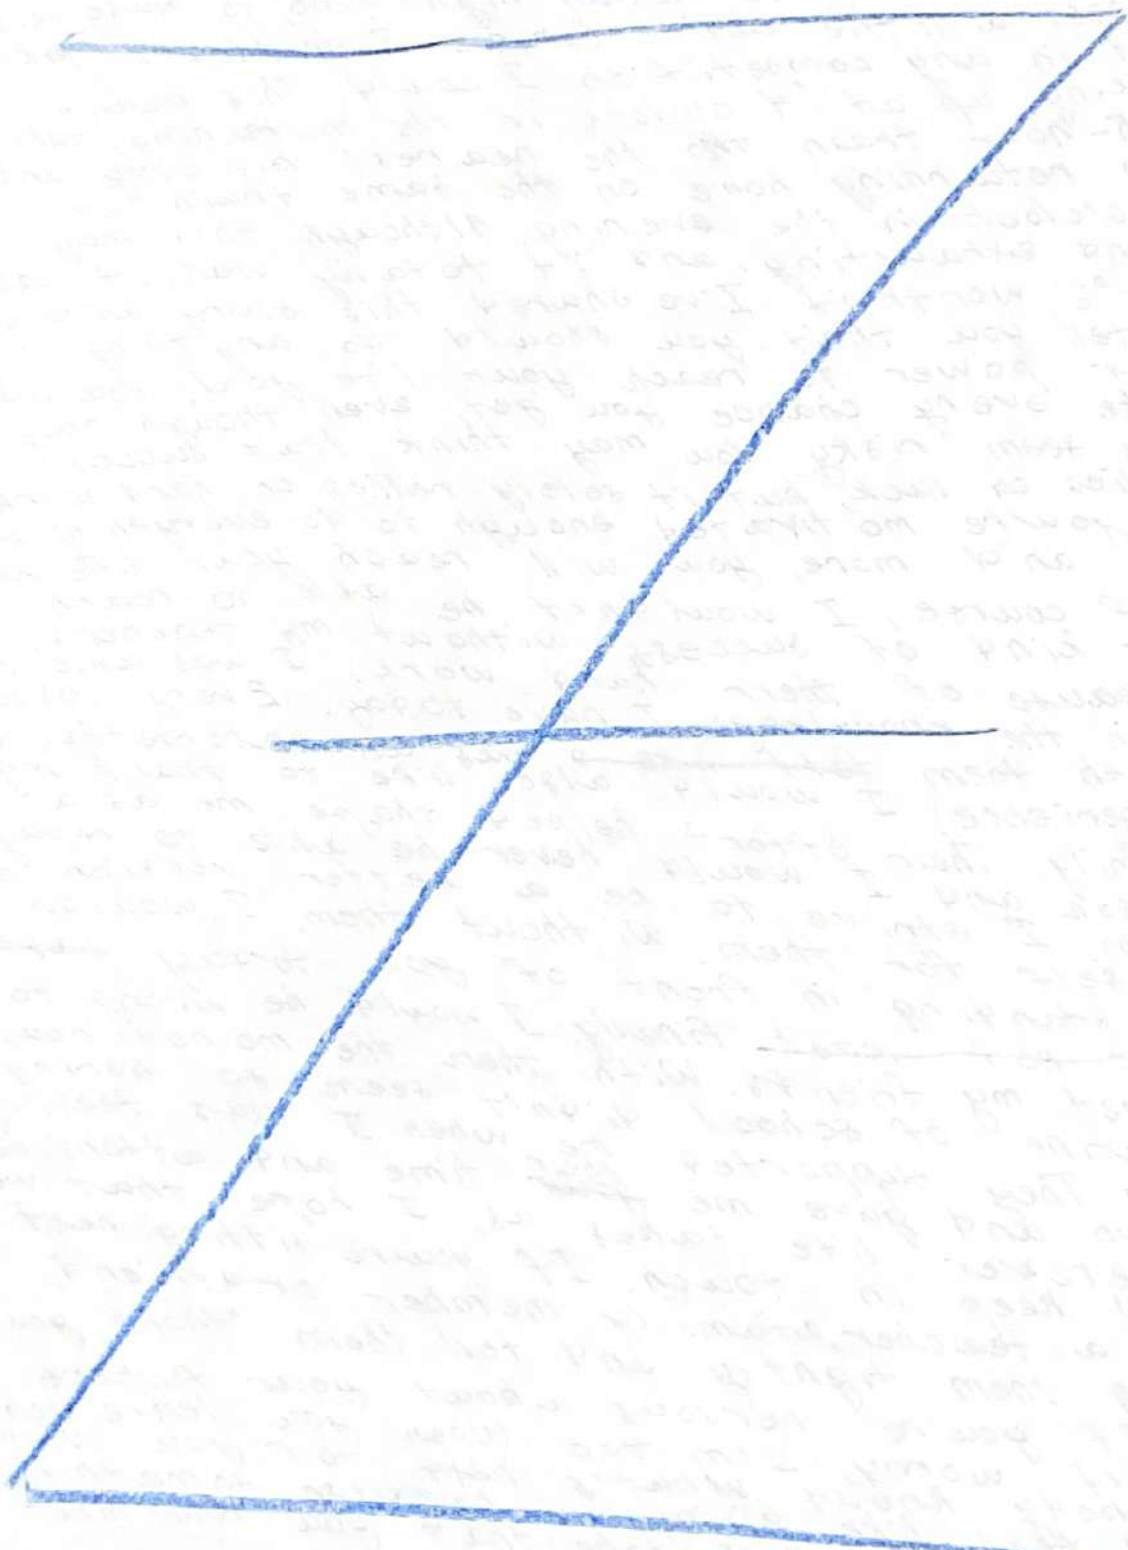

- Yes: tell him where he comes from if you want to do some fortune-telling.

3) It was just like he was doing the same thing but wanted me to do with the lines on the paper. I was laughing because I thought it was going to be a hard thing for a mouse to do. But then Algernon kept going all the way through that thing all the right ways until he came out where it said "finish" and he made a squeak. But says that means he was happy because he did the thing right.

speech. Never give up! Repeat after me, never give up! Your hard work and motivation will help you reach ~~in~~ your life goals. I'd like to finish my speech ~~by~~ with a proverb.
It goes like this: "It's hard to study, but it's easy in war" This means no matter how ~~something difficult~~ something may seem, all your efforts will pay off. I hope that you will remember this for the rest of your life.

Thank you for listening!

leave my homework until the last minute. Trust me, this skill is important not only for school, but also for your later life. Because of this, I've accomplished many things. Not only I managed to get great marks and receive a red diploma, but I also won in every competition I participated in. I think that little me would be very proud of me.

Because little me was always motivated to be the best student, she was always doing the most no matter the cost. I think that for all of us it would be a dream to get to the university we want. But not a lot of us want to take the Unified State Exam, right? So, to make this process a little easier for me, I decided to take part in any competition I could. This meant waking up at 4 o'clock in the morning, taking a 5-hour train to the nearest big city and then returning home on the same train at 11 o'clock in the evening. Although this may sound exhausting, and it totally was, it was 100% worth it. I've shared this story with you to tell you that you should do anything in your power to reach your life goal. You should take every chance you get, even though they may seem risky. You may think that success relies on luck, but it solely relies on hard work. If you're motivated enough to do everything you can and more, you will reach your life goal.

Of course, I wouldn't be able to reach this kind of success without my teachers. Because of their hard work, I was able to gain the knowledge I have today. Every lesson with them ~~felt like~~ was an unforgettable experience. I would also like to thank my family. Their effort helped shape me as a person and I would never be able to repay them. I strive to be a better version of myself for them. Without them, I wouldn't be standing in front of you today. ~~but not least~~ Finally, I would be wrong to forget my friends. With them the monotonous routine of school didn't seem so boring. You They supported me when I was feeling down and gave me ~~your~~ time and attention. Wherever life takes us, I hope that we will keep in touch. If you're sitting next to a teacher, a family member or a friend, hug them tightly and tell them "thank you".

If you're nervous about your future, don't worry, I'm too. When you leave school, no body knows what's next for you. When you feel like giving up because something's too difficult, I hope that you remember my
