Almost every person wants to have their own room. A room is a way of ~~e~~ showing someone's emotions and feelings. I've ~~always~~ dreamed of my own room.

In my opinion, a room should be big and spacious because a person can't do a lot of activities like stretching and doing sports in a small room. I love to do these kinds of activities, ~~the stretching~~ so I need to have a big room. I would also love a room with pink or violet colors. Those colors are my favourite and always fill me with joy. I would love if my floor was made out of ~~wood~~ wood because it is easier to clean. The walls would have to be thick so nobody can hear me sing.

I would love to have a basketball hoop in my room because I enjoy playing basketball. I would also need a desk and a bookshelf to help me study. A canopy bed would be amazing because it would make me feel like a princess. I don't need a football soccer table because nobody in my family knows how to play it. A bunk bed wouldn't be needed because I want my own room and I certainly wouldn't need any plants because I don't know how to take care of them. I would love to have a piano, but not a grand piano. I'd prefer an electric piano because it doesn't take up much space. I'd like to have a normal closet, not a walk-in closet. I don't have that much clothes. I would change a carpet for a small ~~one~~ rug and weird sculptures for pictures with my family and friends. I would put the pictures on the wall, the basketball hoop on the door, the desk and piano near the window, the bed across the window, the bookshelf and closet beside the window and the small rug near the bed.

The most important part of someone's room is that it reflects their soul, thoughts and personality. That's what makes it ~~se~~ so comfortable and cozy.
